

Manju FONAI Scholarship Twelve Month Report. March 2017.

Manju is 18 years old & is currently completing a law degree at Kathmandu School of Law with the support of many FONAI sponsors. She has completed 6 months of her 5 year course & is doing really well in her studies.

Namaste,

I never ever thought that I would reach in this stage in my life! I was afraid that am I be able to turn my dream into reality or not? But now I am so much more confident & I am sure I will turn my dream into reality.

It's all because of all your support, help, care love ,affection & your inspiration. I am so much speechless that I even can't thank you because you all have been so much great to me & with my family too because I am the only one who is the hope of bright & my family is also really thankful to you.

I am studying in BALLB, first year in Bhaktpur district & currently I am staying in a girl's hostel. My college is far from my girl's hostel which takes one & half hour in bus so within two month our college hostel will be ready then after I will be shift in college hostel.

I am really enjoying my study. Our college has provided us such a wonderful & suitable environment for study, the teachers are so kind & helpful to us & I have got such lovely friendly, helpful friends, senior brothers & sisters too. This year is totally different from last year & I have learned many things. This college had provided me with different opportunities such as hosting the 16 day program 'Violence Against Women' campaign. They were so happy with me & provided me a certificate too. I have engaged in different activities which are helpful to my career & future too such as NELSA (Nepalese law student association) & Amnesty (youth network fusion) this is the international concept where we work for human rights of world's people.

I need to study 8 subjects in class. My class start from 10 o'clock to 5 but I go college early in the morning at 7 o'clock so that I can spend lots of time in library & I take meals in college's cafeteria. Sometimes I take breakfast & sometimes snacks instead of meal when I don't get time to have meal. I study General Principles Of Law. We study what is law, different sources of law such as custom, tradition, precedent & legislation, how laws are made & how they are passed by legislation. We also study different schools of thought such as historical, economic, realist & sociological etc. The second general concept of law is about what is right, the types of right, the relation between rights & duty, different jurists thoughts & about different scholars & case studies. Thirdly we study the history of Nepal & legal history also. The fourth area is logic which is the subject which teaches us to think more rationally than emotionally & how to be logical. The fifth study area is political science & we study about politics, nature of state, organs of state, democracy, theory of sovereignty, political party, concepts of good government & different scholars. In this subject each & every day we study through presentation, first we need to do presentation our self & only teacher teach us which is really good idea. We need to do presentations in other subjects too but not daily. The sixth area is Clinical legal work. This subject is more practical than theoretical as we do case studies & learn how to advocate in court. Recently we went to a court visit for a street law program & to different colleges of Kathmandu valley with different topics of study. My topic was ethics of political parties so that I & one of my friends went to the electoral commission of Nepal to bring books & learn ethics of political parties representing our group. We also went to colleges to teach students which was really amazing & I had to learn many things. The seventh area is Management where we learn how to manage things, time management, how to deal with clients, build leadership, work effectively & efficiently & how to plan to achieve goals.

Finally the eighth area is Economic - micro & macro, the relation between economics & law, the economic condition of Nepal, economic development & planning, public finance & new trends etc. At last but not least I am really thankful to every one of my supporters. I could not to do anything without your help, support, inspiration & care & I am doing my best to achieve my goal.

Your faithful student, Manju
